

AARC Railroad Runs Again

Yet another annual meeting has come and gone without the need for us to use any paper ballots. No hanging chad here! All the officers accepted their positions for yet another year, except that KE8VE character, the shirker. Oh, that's me, isn't it. Well, thanks Joe for taking over for me. I needed a break. It was a rough job.

For those of you who missed the meeting, Joe, KC8TAC was elected to the position of Vice President, and the other officers were returned to their positions. George, K3GP was elected to fill the three year trustee position vacated by John, KD8MQ, and Frank, WA8WHP was elected to replace Joe, who had two years left on his trustee position. All this took place without the need for a single ballot being cast. Are we good, or what! Best darn railroad anywhere.

We tried to convince Joe that the Newsletter Editorship went along with the Vice Presidents position, but he didn't go for it. Darn! Guess I'm stuck with that for now.

On a more serious side, we all need to thank Dave and Mary Ann for their many years of service to the club as secretary and treasurer. And don't forget Bob, who has been doing a great job as President for the past two years. □

- cation accessible to the public, but his signal must be receivable at the starting location.
9. The winner will be the person with the lowest score, which will be computed by multiplying time in minutes by miles. The Fox will write down the times and odometer readings of those who find him. Someone will be selected to gather the information at the starting point.
 10. The Fox will choose a frequency on the 2 meter band and convey that information to someone who will be at the starting location. It will be kept secret until the Fox Hunt begins.
 11. The Fox should transmit for at least 30 seconds at a time and at least once every 3 minutes or so. Longer and more often is OK.

If you haven't been to a Fox hunt before, or if you need ideas, check out KD8MQ's web page at www.qsl.net/kd8mq/rdf/rdf.html. John also has links to other pages on Radio Direction Finding. Come to the meeting and ask questions. You might want to go with someone else on your first hunt. There was some information printed in the Feb. '03 Newsletter which might be helpful.

Keep safety in mind. If you pull over to take a bearing, do so in a safe location. Obey speed limits and other traffic laws. Hope to see you at the Fox Hunt. You can't help but have fun. □

News Notes

The FCC is currently accepting comments on seven Morse Code related petitions. Deadline for comments is November 7th. More information can be found on the ARRL's web site. There is still time for you to send in a comment.

Here are a few other topics I found on the League's site.

Hams are not standing alone in their opposition to Broadband Over Power Line, BPL. A growing number of parties including Broadcasters and the ITU are expressing concern that the level of interference will be unacceptable.

And, just in case you haven't already heard, 73 magazine published its last issue in September. The magazine was published for 43 years. Lack of advertising revenue was cited as the problem.

Also, according to an e-mail I received from Tom, KB8MFV, This Week In Amateur Radio is in jeopardy due to a lack of funding. If you would like to help them continue, you can get more information from kb8mfv@juno.com

Hams have been helping out in the fire disaster in California supplying emergency communications.

Riley Hollingsworth has been pushing to identify unlicensed 10-meter operators. He invites all Amateurs to provide any information they can. □
